All throughout creation you have beings & forces at different levels of spiritual evolution. They fall into 2 basic groups with many different degrees between them. Basically all souls fall into 2 main groups: The spiritually ignorant and the spiritually advance .

Karma

The Mechanics of Reincarnation.

There are two types of past life affinities or preferences that a soul uses to choose it's next birth cycle:
Group preferences & Individual preferences. These "good affinities or preferences" lead to births that provide the soul the least amount of opposition from the group or individual perspective. The key is that pastlife choices determine the new reincarnation circumstances. In occult we call these "affinities". That is, the "good karma" positions the reincarnating soul in the best possible situation to pay off it's bad debts. The good try's to position the new birth in the optimal circumstances concerning the following starting points: The Station in Life/ Rich, Poor, Middle Class, Adopted & Orphaned; The Sex/ Male/Female/Both, The Childhood Years/ Inherent Diseases, Heredity, National Characteristics, The Mental, Physical & Emotion circumstances, Abuse, or Privileged.

The First Being forms or obtains self conscientious within the many universe(s) of the Mirror.

From the first being, (or All Mind) of the creator, a "Diversity of Unity of Souls" forms! From this oneness, matter & spirit are born. The Divine sparks (or the 3 permanent pre-atoms of force) Get reflexed on the mirror and then evolve into souls. This first being (or All Mind) of the universe is also known as the universal mind or oneness. It is made of a diversity of souls. The first being/creator sees the source and "choose" the path of evolution for the universe(s). In occult we call this the divine plan or divine laws. Likewise, when the souls obtain self conscientious, they also choose their paths of evolution.

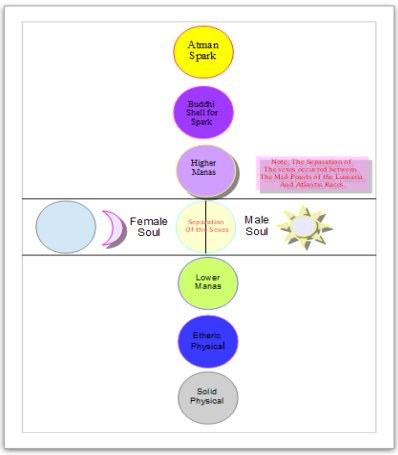

The first being may witness signals and signs from the source. The source is also know as the absolute unknowable all. The first being/creator interprets these signals & signs which results in evolutionary choices being made by the All Mind. Free-will is constant at every level of creation. This interpretation does not infringe on the creator's free-will. Nor does the soul infringe on the "free will" of it's personality in it's quest for absolute perfection. We are all born into a "exact set" of circumstances. This exact set provides opportunities to retire bad debts from previous lifetimes. If bad choices are made, more bad karma is created. It falls to the personality to choose to fix it's own mistakes.

The first being may or may not make good or bad choices about the path of evolution. The effect of the plan falls to the personality in reincarnation. Thus, the plan of evolution falls to the creator and the effect falls to the personality. Keep in mind the occult axiom: "As above so below. So below as above".

Divine laws apply to the all the lower levels of creation. That is, the creator is divine law as best as it can interprets these signals & signs of the source. Moreover, the the first being is not absolutely perfect. It makes mistakes just like the personality does in reincarnation. The souls who have obtained self conscientious are less perfect than the first being in terms of their choices. As the soul Co-evolves, so too does the first being. Evolution is codependent at all levels of being. Thus, there are spiritually ignorant beings and spiritually advance beings spread all through the many levels of existence. From the human being's point of view, free-will and karma are two side of the same coin. That coin is motion. In summary; the 3 permanent pre-atoms of force emerge from the big bang and become souls slowly over time. The Reflexion of the candle on the mirror sets into motion free-will & karma. Once souls evolve, in terms of reincarnation, the human drama get play out over & over, until the point where they can re-enter the source during the big crunch. At the big crunch all the souls are finally ready to be re-absorbed by the source. The universe(s) which is a Reflexion from the source ceases to be. This is the meaning of the serpent biting it's tail.

The & Planes, The 7 Principles in Man, and the 7 Senses

The 7 plane of existence are:

1.)Atman (The Divine Spark).These are the 3 pre-atoms of force which later will become solid physical atoms once reflexed upon the mirror.

2.)Buddhi (The shell or container) This is the shell for the spark. It is the place where consciousness awakens. It is the 2rd place counting downwards and the 6th place counting upwards! It gives spiritual consciousness, understanding, judgment, discrimination to the newly formed souls. It is a veil, garment and container for the Atman-spark.

3.)The Manas are really one plane divided into two parts.

The Manas in occult philosophy become the 4th and 5th planes when the 3rd plane is divided.

3.5+

4.)The higher mind is positive. The higher emotions are positive, the higher pranas or life force are positive. After death these get incorporated into into both the Atman & Buddhi and become a oneness in the spiritual region of Devachan.

3.5-

5.)The lower mind is negative. The lower emotions are negative. The lower pranas or life force are negative. This lower plane dwells in the region of Avichi is the realm of matter. This lower 3.5- gets recycled by mother nature after the death of the human.

In Occult philosophy the one plane of the manas are consider two separate planes. That is, as the 4th & 5th planes of the total 7 planes of existence.

3 = 4 and 5.

6.)The Etheric Physical Plane. This is the densest form of AKASA. The cycles of motion produce these forces of attraction and repulsion, along with centripetal & centrifugal forces. To put it another way, the Etheric is the magnetism that holds the solid physical object together. Motion produces the magnetic fields of attraction, repulsion, centripetal & centrifugal forces. Currently physicists call this stuff Dark Matter or Dark Energy. It is said that 90% of the universe is made etheric matter. By the end of the age of Aquarius (2600 years long) mankind will master the Etheric Physical Plane and this will allow humans to travel the universe. The Etheric Physical Plane is a collection of separate energies combined into one mass for a cycle of time. It is a form making substance. The ether is an energy body with a shelf life limit. It is made of threads of force or tiny streams of energy. The Etheric Physical Plane holds the solid physical plane together.

7.) The solid physical. It is the birth, growth and death container for a soul's reincarnation life cycle. This is co-chosen by Karma and the Soul before birth.

The 7 Planes, The 7 Human Principles In Man, and the 7 Senses in Man are all subject to the struggle between the spiritually ignorant and the spiritually advance.

All Races in all worlds of our cosmic system are burden with spiritually ignorant souls. That is, they are a burden to the spiritually advance; also known as the selfless pure-hearts, who put service and sacrifice to others first. This is because of the law of duality or divine paradox which was born from motion. Also, leaders of a technologically advance race who are spiritually ignorant tend to destroy their civilizations, when the balance between enlightenment and quest for technological advancement is broken, by their selfish interests. That is, ethics and science must progress in tandem. Put another way; civilizations who are controlled by the spiritually ignorant leaders tend to self destruct from their selfish use of technologies. This explains the many ET migrations to other worlds.

The Occult Notion of the "Law of Economy" is also Known as the "Law of Affinities".

The Law of Affinities use two aspects when choosing to reincarnate into a new human body.

These are past life groups and personal soul affinities.

A.) National Characteristics.
B.) Sexual Characteristics.
C.) Childhood Characteristics
D.) Disease Characteristics
E.) Body Characteristics
F.) Family Characteristics
G.) Mental Characteristics
H.) Emotional Characteristics

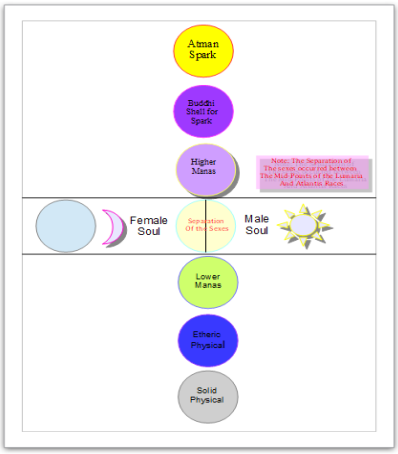

Often Negative past life karma get quickly exhausted in a particular reincarnation.

Strong (vs) Weak Karma

If weak, then the situation is temporary. Once the Soul gets free & the debt is paid in full then new choices bring new Karma. This is a turning point. Once free of debt the human can take a totally different path from his current situation. If the debt is not paid in full then the new path may experience some lingering effects by way of varying degrees of obstacles & obstructions. Overcoming these lingering effects from bad karma depends on varying degrees of the personality's will power. Once free from the lingering Karma other debts may or may not come into play from past lives. This is a individual soul choice and is above the personality's pay grade. Eventually, these debts will become exhausted when the personality frees itself from pleasure & pain. Once free from all pleasure and pain; and when the soul and personality enter into a oneness, the human being is free from karma. Reincarnation is no long required to pay the human being's past debts.

Motion's impact of the 7 planes of Being.

With the birth of the soul, free will and reincarnation, the "battle field" of karma is set up. Once karma is born all 7 planes struggle to regain the source's absolute unknowable state of perfection. Hence the 7 planes of being struggle to merge with the source, that is the glass of water being both 1/2 full & 1/2 empty at the same time. The Reflexion on the mirror "is and isn't" at the same time. Thus the quest for understanding and knowing is play out in each of the 7 planes of being. If the Reflexion can do this, then the time for the "Day Of Be With Us" manifests with the big crunch of the universe(s). That is, the sparks are reabsorb by the Source and all things enter into it.

Karma and the 7 senses in man.

1.)Karma. It supports the Divine Plan of the first being.
2.)Intuition. It senses the Divine Laws of the first being.

Objects of the 5 sense perception in the human being. They are:

3.)Hearing
4.)Sight
5.)Smell
6.)Taste
7.)Touch

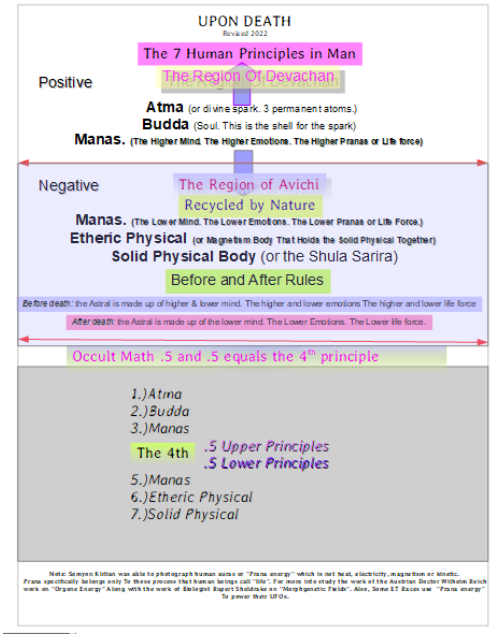

The 5 sense in man all impact upon the Mind, Reason, Intellect, Emotions & Desires.

The 5 Senses also are "repeated" within the intuition. Once the union between the soul & personality has freed the "higher self" from pleasure and pain of earthly existence that "upgraded soul" no longer needs to reincarnate. Until that is achieved the higher 2 sense of Karma and Intuition remain inaccessible. The personality has no or little relationship with them.

Karma's impact on The 7 Principles in man.

The Soul chooses It's Reincarnation

The soul's previous Affinities let it choose the point of least opposition for the new born child.

The Battlefield of Karma

This mostly this occurs in the Higher & Lower Manas.

In the Region of Devachan you find the higher manas. These are positive thoughts and emotions that the mind creates. These are positive energies. On the other hand, In the Region of Avichi you have the lower manas. These are the negative thoughts and emotions that the mind creates. They are made of negative energies. When a human being dies the Positive & Negative separate. The Positive goes into the Devachan. There they are assimilated into the Atma, Budda and Upper 3.5+ Manas. The lower 3.5- Manas descend into Avichi and get dissolved then recycled by mother nature for other uses. All that wasn't used in the quest for perfection get recycled for another purpose. Hence the good and bad retire into their natural regions.

Karma's Tool Kit.
These are processed by the personalty's free will

Reason
Intellect Emotions
Ethics
Desire
Action or Choices made from free-will.

The soul's past is awaiting it's effects in the new born child. That is, the soul's past is linked to the New Born's future for better or worst until the personality once again dies. At age of 7 years, which in occult is called "the age of responsibility", free-will begins, all things being equal. Generally speaking, at that point Karma begins. This is when the new personality becomes the ruler of its "new destiny". If the new personality chooses selfishness then negative energy will be drawn to fulfill it's desires. If sacrifice & service are chosen then varying degrees of obstacles & obstructions will be ameliorated until the debt is paid and freedom gained. At that point sin or bad karma get exhausted and neutralize. Hence, the fresh personality becomes the ruler of its own destiny. The personality either choose another set of life circumstances; or goals to work on, or it choose to work on more of its past sins. However, if the personality focuses on the gratification & fulfillment of negative desires then negative karma or "bad shit" will follow. Keep in mind that all energy follows thought. Bad shit will be drawn to the personality like a magnet attracts iron filings. Either in this life or the next. Also, the choice of what to work on is above the personality pay grade. There is an occult saying: "our choices are either our executor or our savior". So in the long run, the indulgence of sense gratification must lead to pain & woe. Conversely it must also lead to joy and happiness. Think of the workings of fine Swiss time piece! Many self-winding watches will use 21-25 jewels and having those extra capstones reduce additional errors that can happen over time. The gears of the time piece only work one way. The gears give the right output for telling the correct time. Also know if the thought is created by the personality, the result will manifest for good or ill according to the soul's agenda; and not the whims of the personality. This is what is referred to in the bible by the phrase: "Vengeance is mine sayest the lord". Also, occult philosophy holds that a human can have no attachment for a thing he does not desire. To create the good, fix your thoughts on the highest ideal: Freedom from pleasure and pain.

The Machinery of Karma.

The struggle of human existence lay in the selfish or selfless focus of the human mind. This in turn controls the flow of energy into the upper 3.5+ or lower 3.5-. If the flow to is increased to Devachan spirituality results. If the flow is increased to Avichi selfishness results. This flow determines good or bad situations for the personality. Control of the mind is the key.

Avoiding Repentance and Deep Regrets

It is good to resolve not to continue to do the same wrong. It is one thing to fix ones thoughts on the highest ideal or right thing; but it is another to constantly go back and think about the sin you have created. Once you forgive yourself & fix it move forward. Don't focus your attention on past mistakes or sin. This only draws more negative energy. It only sustains the bad karma. Let your yes be yes; and your no be no! The bottom line is that the more your mind focuses on pleasure and pain, the more karma becomes a result of your focus. The less pain and pleasure, then the less karma! It is the intention of the mind which draws the karmic cords tightly around the soul. It will imprison the aspirations and bind them with chains of difficult and obstructions. Change the mind set and the burden will lift. Have no remorse for bad choices and no exceptions of reward for good choices. Remember, perfection is freedom from pleasure and pain. This is the quest for all souls on earth at this time.

February 4th 2025